Kusabi table.

A robust table inspired by the simplicity of traditional Japanese craftsmanship.

The Kusabi table has a simple, carefully considered aesthetic, where form meets functionality. Crafted vertical timber forms are tightly connected by strong horizontal beams.

Inspired by Japanese minimalism and traditional craftsmanship, the new Kusabi table by Aspect is clean, uncluttered and spacious. The large-format solid timber slab design makes this the perfect table for hosting informal meetings and collaborating in your workplace.

Kusabi is available in table or leaner height in a variety of sizes and bench configurations.

The perfect fit

Kusabi has been designed with specific attention to functional and aesthetic details. The leg to footrail connection uses a traditional technique known as a 'tusk tenon', which removes the use of glued joints and allows for easy assembly.

Power integration

Seamless power and data integration is a key factor in the design. A cable reticulation cavity concealed within the leg runs up to a centrally mounted power box, adding functionality by providing user integration and connectivity.

Designed and made in New Zealand

Kusabi was designed by Aspect's in-house design team and is manufactured locally, which means we have full control over quality, lead times and installation.

This ensures you get product quickly and reliably from a quality and sustainable environment.

Kusabi's sustainable flat-pack design allows for ease of transport and assembly on site.

We believe that high-performing spaces enable high-performing people.

We place a person's comfort and ease-of-use at the heart of every product and system we create. Aspect designers and workplace specialists help you create a complete office furniture solution that will inspire and support people in their work every day.

Back in 1982, from a small factory in Auckland, Aspect founder and CEO Richard Simmons made his very first furniture prototypes. Driven by a passion for craft and beautiful engineering, he steadily grew the business and is joined today by his three sons and an expert team of designers, engineers and workplace specialists across New Zealand and Australia. Today, Aspect makes collections at the leading edge of international product design, technology, and workplace best practice.

Our focus on crafted, fully resolved commercial furniture means Aspect collections are trusted by some of the largest public and private organisations around Australasia. With nearly 40 years' experience designing and manufacturing collections for the modern workplace, our office furniture has a reputation for being robust, ergonomic, and comfortable throughout the working day.

We make over 70 per cent of our product range in New Zealand and Australia for true control over design, quality, customisation, and lead times. You receive products quickly and reliably from a quality-assured environment. In addition to speed and flexibility, local manufacturing also creates a smaller environmental footprint.

Our team of product designers and workplace specialists help you define and select a furniture solution to meet your workplace aspirations and project budget using durable and environmentally sound products.

Direct access to our furniture designers means greater flexibility and control over your solution, as we work from our collections, adapt existing products, or design new components.

Aspect Furniture operates ethical and sustainable business practices. We have certification from Good Environmental Choice Australia (GECA) and Environmental Choice New Zealand (ECNZ), and our products are aligned to the Green Star rating tool. Independent certifiers regularly audit our premises under the ISO 9001 and ISO 14001 quality and environmental management systems. Similarly, the health and safety of our employees is vital to our success, and we are certified to the globally recognised AS/NZS 4801 and ISO 45001 occupational health and safety standards.
